NIGHT BATTLES IN THE WEST

French Repulse Four Terrific Dashes of the German Forces

BOMBARD REAR LINES

German Blockhouse and Entrenchments South of Givenchy Forest Taken by The French.

Paris, Oct. 4—The repulse of four German attempts to retake lost trenches between Souchez and the woods of Givenchy and of a similar attack to the north of Mespil are reported in the official statement given out by the war office. The communication also says that the Germans bombarded the rear of the French lines in the valley of the Suippes with asphyxiating shells and that the French artillery on its part reduced several of the enemy's batteries to silence. Elsewhere the night was calm. The text of the communication follows:

"Between Souchez and the woods of Givenchy the enemy attempted in four hand-grenade assaults to retake some portions of the trenches he had lost. He was everywhere repulsed.

"In the Champagne a German counter-attack against the positions which we conquered on October I, to the north of Mespil was likewise thrown back.

"The enemy bombarded the rear of our front, particularly in the valley of the Suippes continuously with asphyxiating shells. Our artillery took the opposing batteries to task and reduced a number of them to silence."

The official communication records the continuance of heavy bombardments, the capture by the French of a German blockhouse.

GERMANS FALL INTO TRAP.

French Cut Their Way Through Trapped Foe.

Paris, Oct. 4—By their methods of preparation and attack the French kept their losses in Champagne down to a remarkably low figure. The French tactics and strategy in attack completely deceived the Germans and thereby greatly increased the German losses.

The French lines swept forward with tremendous gusto to a point where they seemingly were brought to a halt by the German resistance.

The French center slowly gave ground.

Meanwhile the wings held. As the center fell back the Germans pressed forward their counter attack hoping to cut the French line and turn defeat into victory.

But as soon as the Germans were drawn well into the trap the French surged forward again all along the line and waded into the Germans from three sides with bayonets.

The Germans were caught in the mass, and the slaughter went on until the men sickened of the work. The French literally cut their way through the trapped German army corps.

Paris, Oct. 4—How 5,000 Germans were exterminated in one of the many groves in which the fighting in Champagne centered last week, is described in a story told by a wounded officer. He said:

"While retreating under heavy fire, a body of 5,000 Germans sought shelter in a thicket, Our general sent out a flag bearer with instructions to invite the enemy to surrender.

"The German commander proudly refused. Immediately our 75's got busy and very soon, tree branches, limbs and heads danced madly in the air above the woods. This lasted all day and all night, but at dawn a German emerged, bearing a white flag, and announced the surrender of the survivors; a few dozen men, who, dazed and livid, staggered into our lines."

HINDENBURG HALTED

Prince Leopold's Attack on Minsk Also at Standstill

London, Oct. 4— Gen. von Linsingen alone of the Teuton commanders is pushing ahead in the east and his gains are trivial, compared to the former Austro-German operations in this territory. He has succeeded in driving the Russians across Kormin Brook, north of Czernysz, capturing 2,400 prisoners.

The advance of Von Hindenburg on Dvinsk has apparently come to a full halt, while his movement and that of Prince Leopold against Minsk also are at a standstill. In fact, the Russians appear to have wrested the offensive away from the Teutons and to be delivering vigorous attacks, which in places have been successful in territorial gains.

It is believed by military critics here that Von Hindenburg is regrouping his armies and husbanding his supplies in preparation for a supreme assault on Dvinsk before winter brings a halt in operations. The huge demands for shells in the west has served to curtail Hindenburg's supply, while his armies are believed to have been drained to meet the demands, of the French front. On the other hand, it is believed a number of Russian troops also have been withdrawn because of the Bulgarian menace in the Balkans, and held in readiness to strike at Bulgaria, if she declares for the central powers.

Petrograd dispatches express optimism over the situation around Dvinsk and it is freely predicted that the Russians will be able to hold the city, although there still is danger of envelopment in the German operations to the south.

THREE IN JITNEY KILLED

Baltimoreans Lose Life in Cecil County When Train Crashes Into Bus.

Baltimore, Oct. 4—Three men were killed last night at a crossing of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad at Leslie, near Northeast, Cecil county, when a jitney bus in which they were riding plunged into the New York-Chicago express, which is due in this city at 10.45 o'clock.

There were marks of identification on one of the men only, an automobile driver's card and license permit, in the name of Elmer Gassaway, 2408 Orleans street.

One of the other two men wore only trousers and shirt and the third wore also a vest. The body of the man who is believed to be Gassaway, was brought to Camden Station on the train which caused his death. The other two were left for the coroner at Leslie.

The accident happened at 9:58 o'clock, when the train was speeding along at almost full power. The heavy train had gained impetus and was crossing a roadway directly beside Leslie station when the crash came.

MAYOR ALLEGED FIRE BUG

Indicted With Eight Others in Supposed Arson Ring.

St. Louis, Oct. 2—Roy M. B. Tidd, Mayor of Webster Groves, Mo., a suburb; Julius R. Bersch, of St. Louis, and seven other men were indicted yesterday on charges of arson. The indictments are the result of the grand jury's investigation of an alleged arson conspiracy through which insurance companies are said to have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Tidd is president of the Nixon-Jones Printing Company, whose plant was destroyed by fire on the night of September 4, Bersch is vice-president of the Bersch Insurance Agency'.

The seven other men indicted are: Harold G. Gilmore, head of the Gilmore-Bonfig Decorating Company; Harry Imel, Gilmore's secretary; Otto F. Leman, insurance adjuster, and Edward Milner, Morris Greenberg, Max Greenberg, and Michael O'Connor. The last four are alleged "torches."

Bersch was indicted in connection with the Nixon-Jones fire, and a blaze in the Gilmore-Bonfig Company plant July 24 last.

Bersch and Leman were indicted in connection with the alleged plot to set fire to the plant of the Christen Below's factory.

RUSSIA SENDS HER ULTIMATUM

Bulgaria Must Break With Central Powers or Become Ally

MAKES STERN DEMAND

Drastic Muscovite Move Supported by Other Powers of the Quadruple Entente

Salonika, Oct. 4 — Two powerful Russians squadrons have appeared off the Bulgarian Black Sea port of Varna according to dispatches received here today.

London, Oct. 4,—An Athens dispatch says the Austro-German attack on Serbia will begin October 6 and 7, according to a report from Vienna. The dispatch also says it is learned from Sofia that Bulgarian mobilization has been completed. The strength of the Bulgarian troops is estimated at 350,000. The artillery regiments have been sent to the Serbian frontier, while the Sixth and Seventh divisions are concentrated in the regions of Koula and Belorradchilk, near the Danube.

London. Oct. 4,—The Russian Minister at Sofia has been ordered by his government to leave the Bulgarian capital if within 24 hours Bulgaria does not openly break with the central powers and dismiss the Austro-German officers who recently arrived in that country to direct the operations of King Ferdinand's army.

The ultimatum expires at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The decision to send the ultimatum was arrived at during a conference of ministers at in the field, but delivery had been delayed in deference to the British government's desire to exhaust all possible efforts at a settlement before proceeding to extremities.

As expected, these efforts were fruitless, and the ultimatum as delivered in Sofia represents the joint decision of England, Russia, France and Italy. who in every respect are absolutely solid in agreement regarding future action.

The other powers of the quadruple entente are backing up Russia in this demand, and so Bulgaria must within a few hours decide on continued neutrality or be considered definitely committed to the central powers. The belief is that Czar Ferdinand has decided to join the Germans and Austrians, and that the Balkans will enter the war by tomorrow. Greece is ready to aid Serbia, but Roumania's position is as yet unknown. The allies are expected to land 30,000 troops at Saloniki. It is believed some are Italians.

ANXIETY IN GERMAY

Newspapers View With Alarm Allies' Drive in the West

Berlin, Oct. 4—The great alarm felt in Germany over the allies' successes in the west is manifested by editorial expressions in papers throughout the empire. Berlin is taking the news from the western front very seriously. Despite the efforts of semi-official organs to minimize the losses it is certain that a deep impression has been caused by the huge extent of the artillery preparation which preceded the allies' attack.

The Tagabatt remarks that nothing would be more foolish than to overlook the terrible seriousness of the recent battles in the west. It says the definite result of the fighting now going on there may decide the whole war.

THE LATE MICHAEL IGOE

Irish Newspaper Pays Tribute to Memory of Late Resident

The Longford, Ireland, Leader of September 11 says:

The sympathy of everybody in the town and County of Longford will go out to Mr. Peter Igoe, county Councilman, on the occasion of the death of his brother, Mr. Michael Igoe, which occurred on the 4th August, at Alexandria, Virginia, U. S. A., where he had been resident for 47 years. Amongst his neighbours as our popular townsman and County Council representative is esteemed and honored here. Mr. Michael Igoe was the eldest brother of the family, and in his youthful days, when the great Fenian movement was in full swing he was a leader of the movement in County Roscommon, and when matters came to a head and the movement met with defeat in its main object of freeing Ireland, he was one of those who had to flee from their native land to the hospitable shores of America. He revisited this country about twenty years ago, and many people in this town remember well his genial and good natured manner during the time he spent here. He was truly a splendid type of patriotic and freedom loving Irishman, and we join with his many friends and relatives in praying: May the Lord have mercy on his soul.

DEATH NOTINCE.

ARABIC CASE IS AGAIN TO FRONT

Controversy Threatens to Precipitate New German Crisis

OBSTACLE TO PEACE

Eventual Adjustment Expected, But Bernstorff's Communication is Unsatisfactory.

Washington, Oct. 4— The Arabic case continues to cause anxiety between the United States and Germany

Unless the two governments can arrive at a better understanding on this controversy, there still is danger of trouble of a serious sort. The specter of a break in relations is hanging over the situation again.

It is believed here that an adjustment will eventually be reached. However, the note which was handed to Secretary Lansing by Ambassador von Bernstorff Saturday has not sufficed to smooth things over.

This became clear after a conference between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing last night.

Another conference will be held in Washington soon between the ambassador and Secretary Lansing. Hope is entertained that much may be done then to clear up the controversy.

A promising phase of the situation —in fact, the most promising one— is that Germany of late has been observing the requirements of international law in submarine war. Moreover, there has been little submarine activity, though this is supposed to be only a temporary lull.

Ambassador von Bernstorff, who is said to be clothed with large powers in the negotiations, takes an optimistic view, but this is not reflected among American officials. The latest German note does not bring about an impasse and leaves the way open to further negotiations, and in this fact promise is seen for a settlement.

Germany wants to arbitrate the whole question of liability. In her former note, Germany said she was not prepared to admit liability even if the submarine commander were mistaken. The United States insists that arbitration can reach only the amount of liability after liability is admitted.

LUXEMBURG BOMBARDED

French Airmen Drop Explosives on City Chosen as Kaiser's Headquarters.

Berlin, Oct. 4 — According to a statement issued by the German War Office, French airmen flew over Luxemburg yesterday, and dropped bombs killing four persons, including a shopgirl. The statement says:

"Yesterday, bombs were dropped by French aviators on the neutral city of Luxemburg. Two Luxemburg soldiers, one workman and one shopgirl were wounded."

A dispatch from Amsterdam on September 27 stated that Emperor William intended to remove his headquarters to Luxemburg, and that instructions had been give for the transfer.

The Grand Duchy of Luxemburg, which German troops passed through on their way to attack the French coincident upon the outbreak of the war, is close to the fighting line at a crucial point on the western front. The city of Luxemburg, the capital of the grand duchy, is hardly more than 50 miles in a direct line from Verdun, at which the armies of the German Crown Prince have been driving at intervals for many months.

Approximately 25,000 persons are expected to attend benediction on the White Lot in Washington, next Sunday afternoon following a parade of the Baltimore and Washington members of the Holy Name Society up Pennsylvania avenue. The marchers will be reviewed by the papal delegate to the United States, Right Rev. John Bonzano, and other dignataries of the Catholic church, from a stand at Fifteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Three hundred members of the Holy Name Society of Alexandria are expected to take part in the parade. The final arrangements were made last night at a meeting of that organization in the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum Hall. The members will be accompanied by the Holy Name Band, of this city.

AIRSHIP ALSACE CAUGHT

Berlin, Oct. 4—Capture by the Germans of the French airship Alsace is announced by the War Office. The announcement follows:

"The enemy repeated his aerial attacks on Laon and Vouziers. At both places several civilians again fell victims to the bomb droppers.

"In the Rethel district the French airship Alsace was forced to make a landing and the crew was taken prisoner."

The French airship Alsace was one of the largest and most powerful in the service of that country. It was a dirigible of a type developed since the war began.

A French War Office statement issued October 1, stated that the preceding night it bombarded the junction of Amagne Lucquy and the stations of Attigny and Vouziers.

The airship was shelled all along its journey, but returned safely to its base, having been hit by only a few splinters of shells, which caused no damage.

DEATH SUPPLANTS NUPTIALS.

Mystifies Physicians Till Insect's Bite is Discovered.

New York, Oct. 4—In a strange manner death befall Miss Claire Burnette Hallock, of Smithtown Branch, L. I., granddaughter of Alanson Hallock, Democratic leader of that section. She was to have been married Tuesday noon at the home of her mother, Mrs. Anna B. Hallock, to George Louis, Jr., a bank clerk, of Brooklyn. She died Wednesday night in Dr. Ross' sanitarium at Brentwood, her distraught finance kneeling at her bedside. It was a time when they had expected to be on their honeymoon to Bermuda.

The cause of Miss Hallock's illness mystified Dr. Turrell, the family physician and Dr. Ross. Finally they found a small red mark on the back of her neck that led to an explanation. The physicians announced that she died of anthrax, a splenic fever caused by the bite of an insect. The disease is rare here, but common in cattle-raising lands of Europe.

EARTHQUAKE IN WESTERN STATES

Much Damage Done Along Southern Pacific in Nebraska

PANIC AMONG PEOPLE

Walls of Buildings Cracked and Several Railroad Water Tanks Topple From High Supports

Imlay, Nev., Oct. 4— Much damage was done by earthquake shocks Saturday night for 100 miles along the Southern Pacific Railroad, it was learned. Several railroad water tanks toppled from their high supports and one at Lovelocks crushed the end of a dwelling.

People fled from their homes in night clothing at many places. Walls of three brick buildings at Lovelock were cracked.

Slow orders were issued to all trains when the third tremor was felt at 11 o'clock last night. One approach to a railroad bridge at Golconda, Nev, sank five inches.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Oct. 4—Prof. F. K. Fov, geologist of the University of Utah, said a slip of Wasatch Fault, extending about 150 miles north and south along the Wasatch Mountains of Utah, caused the third and most violent shock Saturday. This shook threw the stylus of the seismograph against the flange of the service.

San Francisco, Oct. 4—There were no further seismic disturbances today as a result yesterday of a series of earthquakes believed to have originated in the Wasatch Fault, underlying the Wasatch Mountains, in Utah.

The severest shock was at 10:56 Saturday night. The quakes were felt in Utah, Nevada, California, Oregon and Idaho,

So violent were the tremors in Nevada that railroad water tanks along the Southern Pacific were thrown down.

At Baker, Ore., and at Sacramento and Fresno, Cal., buildings swayed and residents rushed into the streets. The disturbances reached as far north as Victoria, B. C., In San Francisco the shocks were barely perceptible.

New York, Oct. 4 —The seismograph at Fordham University here recorded earthquakes, apparently 2,000 miles distant, at 9 o'clock Saturday night, and again at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. The first shock was slight, but the one this morning was heavy.

DIES IN DOUBLE SUICIDE

Man Deserts Paralyzed Wife Mate Left Ill Husband and Both Families Destitute.

Easton, Pa., Oct. 4—Charles Heckman, aged 35, and Mrs. Nelson Davis, aged 30, who eloped from Easton, eight days ago, and went to Wilkes-Barre, drank carbolic acid in a hotel in that city early yesterday morning, and when both were taken to the city hospital the woman died. Heckman's condition is critical.

Heckman deserted a paralyzed wife, who is 15 years his senior, and two little children, while Mrs. Davis left behind her husband, who has been confined to his home for eight weeks with an injury sustained at his work, and three children, the eldest nine years old.

Heckman, who was employed in a power station, reported off about 10 days ago and began drinking. Then he met Mrs. Davis, Before disappearing he took $60 from his sick wife, leaving her penniless.

Since the accident to Davis, his family has been practically destitute. The only money they have had was what Mrs. Davis earned working for her neighbors.

It is thought that she tired of the drudgery, and when she met Heckman and he invited her to elope with him, she readily consented. Before leaving Easton, the couple drank heavily.

CRAVEN IS FOUND DEAD

Four Young First Warders Arrested In Connection With Mysterious Affair.

The body of George T. Craven, 48 years old, a ship carpenter and a life long resident of Alexandria, was found at 2.15 o'clock yesterday morning at the corner of Royal and Wolfe streets, with a severe cut over the left temple that has caused his death, and four well known young men are held at police station charged with being responsible for the man's death. The four men held are Henry Beach, 19 years old; William Tomlin, 21 years old; Joseph M. Monroe, jr., 28 years old, and George Monroe, 22 years old.

The four men were arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Goods and Sergeant Scott, after several hours detective work. They were taken to the police station and after some questioning one of the men broke down and told the police the story of how Craven met his death. The others finally corroborated the story in its principal features.

According to their story they were standing at the corner of Royal and Wolfe streets at shortly before two o'clock when Craven came down Royal street and approached them. All of the quartette had been drinking as well as the dead man. They talked a few minutes and some words arose. Beach is said to have struck or pushed Craven and the latter fell, his temple striking the ground with some force. The four left and went toward the tunnel in Wilkes street, leaving Craven lying in the street. They afterwards returned and turned the man over, finding that he was dead. They left the spot in a hurry without notifying the police.

Craven's body was discovered at 2.15 o'clock by Lawrence Padgett, a driver of a public automobile. Padgett was accompanied by Arthur Burns and was turning on Royal street at the corner of Wolfe when he saw Craven's body lying in the road way of Wolfe street. The man's head was lying toward the sewer and his feet were near the east flagging of Wolfe street. He was on his back with his hands stretched out. His face was covered with blood and there was quite a pool of blood beside his head. Padgett felt the body and it was warm, but he could not discern any sign of life. Padgett got back in his machine and drove to the Light Infantry Armory where he found Officers Yong and Smith. They returned with him and assisted in carrying Craven to the Alexandria Hospital where it was seen that the man had been dead for some time. Dr. T. Marshall Jones, city coronor, was summoned and after an examination of the wound said that the man had been almost instantly killed by the blow on his temple. The body was removed to Wheatley's undertaking establishment and yesterday afternoon a coronor's jury summoned by Dr. Jones, viewed the remains. The jury was composed of F. F. Marbury, George H. Robinson, Samuel W. Pitts, C. A. Connell, J. D. Brown and John G. Henshaw. An adjournment was taken until 8 o'clock tonight when witnesses will be heard and a full examination of the facts surrounding the case will be made.

Craven was married and is survived by his widow and five children. He resided at 311 Wilkes street. For several years past he has been employed at Deane's ship yard. He is a brother of W. L. Craven, messenger of the city council.

When Craven's body was first found it was though that he had been struck and killed by an automobile as his clothes looked as if they had been dragged through the dirt.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

Carl A. Strangmann, for a number of years secretary and treasurer of the Robert Portner Brewing Company of this city, died Saturday night in Buffalo, New York. The deceased was 55 years old.

Carl Strangmann was born in Germany. He came to this country in early life and took up his residence in this city, becoming associated with his uncle, the late Robert Portner, in the management of the brewery. About fifteen years ago he removed to Buffalo, where he founded a lucrative brewing business. His remains will be brought to Alexandria and the funeral will take place after the arrival at 10:17 tomorrow morning.

During Mr. Strangmann's residence in Alexandria he made many friends and acquaintances, among who he was known as Charlie Strangmann.

POWER OF EDITORIALS

According to the Raleigh News-Observer, a number of Carolina editors are having a great time discussing why it is that editorials are not read. So there are clergymen who complain that their sermons do not attract auditors. It must be a melancholy reflection to the man whether in the pulpit or in the sanctum that his labors are counted as naught by those for whose edification or enlightnment much time and thought has been expended. Where such is the case there is generally a reason other than that of lack of intelligent appreciation of what is worth hearing or reading on the part of the church congregation or the newspaper subscribers. Our Raleigh contemporary admonishes its fellow-editorial tened contemporaries that "the reason our editorials are not more generally read is because we don't put the ginger in them; we are too dreary and stilted and labored; we write on subjects we hadn't ought to write on, as they are not general interest; we beat about the bush too much to avoid giving offense. Good editorials are read, and always will be. Colonel Watterson, in his palmy days, made of the Louisville Courier-Journal one of the most popular papers in the United States, not because of its surpassing news service, but on account of its fine editorial page."

The Norfolk Virginia-Pilot in commenting on the above says:

There are, of course, both preachers and journalists who have mistaken their calling, who have no message to deliver, or who are incapable of vesting it with the vigor of thought and impressiveness of language which will command attention. But apart from these, there are others in both professions who are satisfied with perfunctory performance of their mission, who do not put their hearts and minds into their work, who shrink from expression of their convictions on subjects as to which there is sharp division of public sentiment, who follow the paths of least resistance and drawl along in dull comments on commonplace topics for fear of rousing antagonisms or forfeiting favor, or from temperamental apathy towards live issues. The man who has something to say and says it clearly and boldly seldom fails of a hearing whatever the medium he uses for disseminating his opinions. The newspaper which keeps up with the current of popular thought and contributes to them well considered and well phrased editorial discussion of the questions on which those currents turn, will, so far as our notice goes, never want for an interested clintele. When the editor himself feels no impelling interest in the matter he treats of, gives forth no certain sound when right is in danger or wrong in the ascendant, and offers to the public neither instruction, guidance nor mental refreshment, he has no one to blame but himself if his own attitude is reflected in that of the public.

The trouble with many writers of editorials is the attempt to write when they are out of tune. It is said that Macaulay, when he found his mind was becoming too suggish, would drop the pen and wait until his muse returned.

Writing, like humor, must be spontaneous, and the man who attempts to amuse or edify readers daily may find it difficult. The elder Snowden would sometimes for weeks fill the editorial department of the Gazette with comments from other papers. At intervals he would print a lengthy editorial which was always closely studied and copied in many other papers.

WEAK-MINDED OF THE STATE.

A synopsis of the report of the State Board of Charities and Corrections was published in Saturday's Gazette: The board gives an exhaustive exhibit of jail and workhouse and poorhouse conditions, cost of maintaining the same, etc., and says:

Jail prisoners are our greatest prison problem; they live in enforced idleness, while the taxpayer works to support them.

Over 60 percent of the jail population is made up of feeble minded and other permanently antisocial persons, who practically live in jail all the time and will burden the taxpayer either in jails or other institutions with themselves and families as long as they live.

Our methods of dealing with criminals, paupers and other anti-social groups have not resulted in the reduction of their numbers.

The increase o fanti-social classes appears to keep pace with the growth in population. This is true not only of Virginia, but of the nation at large It is now generally admitted by specialists in social sciences that crime, pauperism, etc., as well as insanity result largely from conditions of the mind, and the inefficiency of our present methods of dealing with such classes is doubtless due to our failure to give adequate recognition to mental causes.

Most of the class referred to by the board allow their minds to go to seed. In every community there is a certain class who do not hesitate to say they will not work. A negro named George Midgett was hanged in Alexandria for murder in 1909. He said he preferred death to becoming an inmate of the penitentiary. A white man was sent to jail for two months by the Police Court last week for vagrancy. He had said he would never work. There is apparently nothing wrong with this man's mind.

OLD PAPER SUSPENDED.

The Newburyport, Mass., Herald, one of the oldest weeklies in the country, was published for the last time Saturday. It was started in 1773 and has never missed an edition.

The suspension of the Herald makes the second anti-revolution journal which has gone out of existence in recent years. The Worcester Spy, its cotemporary, passed away several years ago.

The Alexandria Gazette may have been printed synchronously with both these papers, The first mention of the Gazette that can be found is in an order of the court of this city dated 1784, which directs that notice of a certain action be published in this paper. The order reads as though the Gazette was then an institution in Alexandria.

The Gazette is gradually becoming a lone tree in a clearing. One of the penalties of old age is watching the passing away of our cotemporaries. For many years papers published with the Gazette in the latter part of the eighteenth century have died, while the Gazette is still showing the age and body of the times.

NEWS OF THE DAY

A carnival will be held on upper Seventh street Washington tonight.

Between 2,500 and 3000 machinists employed at the plant of the General Electric Company at Schenectady, N. Y., will walk out of the shops today.

Fifteen million dolars' worth of artificial legs and arms for crippled soldiers will be made by the J. E. Hanger Artificial Limb Company Pittsburgh, Pa., to fil orders awarded by the English and French governments.

Gertrude, aged 13, daughter of Benjamin Hurwitz, merchant of Mount Hope, W. Va., was killed Saturday when the automobile she was learning to drive went over a steep embankment. Her skull was crushed.

U. S. Naval officers assigned to examine pieces of metal, said to have been found aboard the Allan liner Hesperian before she sank off the Irish coast, September 4, are virtually convinced that vessel was wrecked by a mine. Their findings will be this week.

Jewels valued at more than $75,000 owned by Mrs. James McMillan, widow of United State Senator McMillan, have been stolen from the summer home of the family, Eagle Head, at Manchester- by-the-Sea, Mass. The robbery occurred on the night of August 7.

Returning from a visit to a fish-camp 10 miles north of Wheeling, W. Va., the pleasure yacht Wilma, owned and driven by Owen Friery, of Wheeling, struck piling of the cofferdam at government dam No. 12, building at Warwood, W. Va., last night. The launch was crushed and its four occupants were thrown into the stream. Only Friery was saved.

Henry H. Flather, former cashier fo Riggs National Bank, of Washington returned to that city yesterday from Connecticut, and will file today a $5,000 bond for his appearance in the District Supreme Court at a proper time to plead to indictments in which he is charged with perjury. He would not comment on the case.

Germany has failed to satisfy the request of the United States that the sinking of the Arabic with a loss of American lives be disavowed and liability for the act assumed by the Imperial government. This became known after a conference last night between President Wilson and Secretary Lansing, at which the latter submitted a note given him Saturday in New York by Count von Bernstorff, the German Ambassador.

Nine mine workers entombed in the Foster Creek tunnel of the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company at Coaldale, Pa., at noot last Monday were taken out alive yesterday. They were found on top of a chute, in which they had crawled to escape a flood of water that had broken from an abandoned working and caused more than 300 feet of gangway roof to fall, shutting off means of escape.

W. S. Brooks, well-known lumberman of Rhodes Station, Ala., committed suicide at his home yesterday morning by shooting. He told wife he was going to kill himself. She grabbed the barrel of the gun as he pulled the trigger. One of the fingers of her hight hand was shot off and she was rendered unconscious by the force of the discharge. Brooks then reloaded the gun, and placed the muzzle against his temple pulled the trigger.

An attempt was made Friday morning to blow up the store of Centofanti and Son at Davis, W. Va., with a bomb wrapped in an old salt sack and bound with clothesline wire. The bomb was placed on the outside of the front door. The explosion broke the glass and set the building on fire. The family was sleeping upsatirs. Centofanti received no threats and as far as he knows has no enemies.

A wife, 38 years old and childless but comely, sat in the Circuit Court at Geneva, Illinois, and in tones so low that the judge had to lean from the bench to hear her tell how she had given up the husband she loved to a young and pretty girl who pleaded that the baby she expected might be given a name. The woman reciting the unusual drama of the eternal triangle was Mrs. Fred Ott, wife of an automobile dealer. The girl to whom she said she had decided to yield her husband was Miss Effie Hoyles 22 years old. A divorce was granted.

William J. Bryan narrowly missed being witness in a murder case Saturday at Hillsboro, Texas. He left the speakers' stand after concluding a disarmament speech shortly before Mrs. Joseph Kirkpatrick shot and killed Dr. A. C. Sayers. Dr. Saylers, one of the most prominent out on bond for the killing of Mrs. Kirkpatrick's husband last Jnauary Mr. Bryan had just concluded his lecture and was passing through the crowd when Mrs. Kirkpatrick approached an automobile in which Saylers was seated and opened fire at close range with two revolvers. She then surrendered to the Sheriff. Mrs. Kirkpatrick is 68 years old.

VIRGINIA NEWS

The granite monument erected at the grave of the late Congressman Walter Preston Brownlow was unveiled yesterday at Bristol, with appropriate ceremonies. Prominent men and many of the constituents of the late Congressman attended.

The Tenth Annual Convention of the Leagues of Virginia Municipalities will be held in Fredericksburg on October 12 and 13th. The forthcoming meeting will undoubtedly be the largest and most successful that has yet been held. A number of prominent speakers will be present.

More than 100 members of the Grand Army of the Republic, most of them from Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, who have been attending the Grand Army reunion in Washington, arrived in Petersburg, yesterday morning. They were met by a large delegation from A. P. Hill Camp of Confederate Veterans and taken in automobiles to the battle fields in front of Petersburg.

The rains of last week prevented the completion of the tobacco cutting in the Lynchburg district and it is estimated that a fourth of the crop is still uncut. The market last week was strong on primings, the average price for the week being higher than last year. Only 85,000 pounds were sold during September. The new tobacco, other than primings, will come to the market for about three weeks.

The Lynchburg board of tax review has made its final assessment on intangible personal property adding $1,762,181 on the assessment of 60 firms. The added assessment is for the present tax year and the board, acting upon the suggestion of the State Advisory Board, decided to take no steps relative to assessment for back years until the General Assembly has had an opportunity to consider laws at its next session.

Miss Jessie Waddell, who for the past two years had been befriended by the Salvation Army at Suffok, and who for the past six weeks has been taken care of by Captain Eaton, of the Salvation Army Post, ran away and joined a circus which recently exhibited at Suffolk. She told Captain Eaton that "the life" was calling her, she having once been a trapeze actress and rider. Miss Waddell went, while in the circus, under the name of Mabel Scott.

Attempting to escape from a constable, Bud Porter, who is alleged to have been a notorious negro of Tarboro, N. C., was shot and killed by the officer at Michipongo yesterday. Discovered in the home of Clifford Leatherbury at Machipongo Saturday night Porter remained in the house most of the night, preventing the occupants from capturing him. He was arrested yesterday morning by Constable Hoover, of Machipongo, but made his fatal break for liberty while being taken to the county jail. He was 30 years old.

From the pulpits of twelve or fifteen Richmond churches last night, ministers denounced the action of the Board of Police Commissioners of Richmond in dismissing Detective-Sergeant Fred L. Frengel, presumably because of the officer's testimony in the recent vice investigation. Several pastors, who have taken a deep interest in the recent reform movement in the city, made the Krengel case their theme, and the Police Board's course received condemnation in many respects more severe than has been given the proceedings of public body in Richmond.

Rev. James L. Lancaster died Saturday evening at 6 o'clock from paresis. He was a son of the late John A. Lancaster, of Cumberland County, and the grandson of Rev. J. H. C. Leach, D. D. Mr. Lancaster was a graduate of Hampden-Sidney College and of Union Theological Seminary. After serving several Presbyterian churches in Missouri and Mississippi, he served one term as chaplain of the University of Virginia, from which place he went to one of the oldest churches in this country, at Perth Amboy, N. J. Failing health caused him to resign that charge several years ago.

James M. Kirkland died at Warfield last week. Mr. Kirkland, one of Pickett's men, who was shot to pieces at Gettysburg, survived his wounds more than fifty years and died from the effects of a bad cold, which settled on his kidneys. One of the bullets, which pierced his body and lodged in his back, he carried with him to his grave, when he was buried Friday afternoon at his old home near Charlie Hope, Va. His life was really saved at Gettysburg by a Bible which he carried in a pocket over his heart A rifle ball penetrated the book, but spent its force, lodging against a rib. None of the other balls struck a vital spots, although he was left on the battlefield for dead.

TO INSPECT INDIAN HEAD

Naval Advisory Board Will Organize Wednesday.

Washington, Oct. 4— One of the first things the new naval advisory board will do will be to inspect the naval proving grounds at Indian Head Md., where projectile, big gun and powder tests are held. The inventors and scientists composing the board, headed by Thomas A. Edison, will hold their first meeting Wednesday and organize. They will discuss in a preliminary way the scope of work and consider plans for the new naval scientific laboratory.

Secretary Daniels will entertain the members at luncheon on the Dolphin Wednesday and take them to Indian Head. The inspection will include the powder factory, the chemical and physical laboratories and the firing of the latest 14-inch 50-calibre gun of the navy.

AUTO CRASH KILLS THREE

Owner and Daughters Escape Guests' Fate.

Altoona, Pa., Oct. 4—While speeding along the highway near Cross Roads, three miles south of Roaring Spring, yesterday evening, William E. Eberle, general foreman of the Pennsylvania Railroad car shops, lost control of his automobile. It plunged into a ditch at the side of the road and then into a fence. Three of the party were killed and three injured.

Elsie Gutekunst, Complainant,
VS. IN CHANCERY
John Gutekunst, Defendant.

Upon the application of complainant stating specifically the last known place of abode of the defendant, and it appearing to the Court that process has been issued and returned by the Sergeant of the City of Alexandria, Virginia, showing the defendant not being found within the jurisdiction of this Court, the Clerk of Court, on this 7th day of September, 1915, doth grant the following order of publication:

The object of this suit is to obtain a divorce a vinculo matrimonii for the complainant, Elsie Gutekunst, from the defendant, John Gutekunst, on the ground of wilful desertion and abandonment for more than three years; that the complainant, Elsie Gutekunst, may be allowed to resume her maiden name of Elsie Windsor, and for such other; further and general relief as the case may require or to equity may seem meet, and an affidavit having been filed that the defendant, John G. NO REASON FOR IT

When Alexandria Citizens Show a Way.

There can be no reason why any reader of this who suffers the tortures of an aching back, the annoyance of urinary disorders, the pains and dangers of kidney ills will fail to heed the words of a neighbor who has found relief. Read what an Alexandria citizen says:

William H. Beach, 417 S. Lee St. Alexandria, says: "My back pained me so badly that I could hardly get about. The kidney secretions passed too frequently and during the nigh I had to get up every little while. I felt so sore and stiff in themorning that I could hardly get out of bed. I was tired and languid and had no ambition to do anything. I finally got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills at W. F. Creighton and Son's Drug Store and the first few doses gave me relief. I used about four boxes and they put my kidneys in good condition. My back never aches now and I feel first-class in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Beach had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TRAINS FATAL TO TWO

Athlete Mangled and Mother Sees Visiting Son Struck.

Shenandoah, Pa. Oct. 4—A Reading express horribly mangled Bernard Kelly, 27 years old, of Locustdale, star left fielder, heavy batter and noted home-run hitter of the Shenandoah Professionals.

George N. Young, 45 years old, of Lakeside, after visiting his aged mother here yesterday, ran to catch a Lehigh Valley express for home, when he slipped and was struck by a coach step. His skull is fractured, his body bruised and he is fatally injured.

Young's mother witnessed the accident and may die from shock.

MURDER PREYED ON MIND.

Man Surrenders and Confesses to Crime Committed 15 Months Ago.

Philadelphia, Oct. 4— Haunted by thoughts of a murder he is said to have committed 15 months ago, Enrico Di Gregorio, who said the only home he should have was jail, walked into the Thirty-third district police station late yesterday afternoon, and told the house sergeant that he was wanted in Camden, N. J., for killing a man on June 7, 1914. The police were at first inclined to think that the man was either joking or demented.

He was sent to City Hall, however, and there he made a confession to Lieutenant Wood and Detective Geon. notti that was later confirmed by Detective Troncone, of the Camden bureau. The man told the detective that the thought of his crime had been with him night and day since it was committed. He said that lately he could not eat nor sleep for thinking of it.

SWISS WILL FACE GERMANS

Several Squadrons of Cavalry Are Ordered to Frontier Towns.

Geneva, Oct. 4—The Swiss Federal Council has ordered several squadrons of cavalry to assemble at Schaffhausen, Zurich and Frauenfeld. This unexpected step has aroused much discussion ,as the troops will be stationed along the German frontier.

LIFTS BAN AGAINST VICE

Detroit, Oct. 4—Police Commissioner John Gillespie admits that his campaign of extermination against so-called disorderly houses, begun two years ago, is a failure. His present policy, is to drive the street-walker from the city and to permit about 50 resorts to keep open—not under police protection, he was careful to say, but under police supervision.

"About 50 resorts will be allowed to operate. Former Superintendent Downey, thought that 100 ought to be permitted, but I think 50 enough. They will not receive licenses and will be under police supervision. That is, the keepers will be made responsible. If there is any disorder in one of them, that place will be closed. I think that this is the best way to handle the problem.

"I believe that this tha the heardest question that a police department has to tackle. There were a great many people who clamored for the closing of all the places, but when I closed them I didn't get a bit of support from those people. One the other hand, I was criticized severely by those who did not believe in such a policy. I expect to be criticized for my present policy, but it is the one that looks reasonable to me, and I intend to carry it through."

FEAR DOUBLE LYNCHING.

Negro Mobs Threaten Assyrian and Latter Race Menaces Colored Shooter.

Coatesville, Pa. Oct. 4—Coatesville fears a repetition of the Zach Walker lynching. Last night Coatesville Hospital is under heavy guard.

The excitement began in a shooting and stabbing affray yesterday morning, when Alexander Fisher's bulldog attacked a nine-months-old child of his Assyrian neighbor, Joseph Morgus, Assia George, another Assyrian, went to the rescue of the child, and soundly kicked the bulldog. Then the negro grew angry and shot George, in the leg that kicked the dog. Mogus, in turn, came up from behind and stabbed the negro in the back twice with a knife.

Fisher and George were sent to the hospital, the negro in a serious condition and George liable to lose his right leg, already almost blown off by the negroe's gun.

Morgus was arrested last night, the negro element sent hurried calls to police headquarters, just about the time that worshipers were on their way to church, declaring that the Assyrians were mobilizing and that they were going to visit the hospital and lynch Fisher.

SAVED BY TOBACCO

Greenville, Pa. Oct. 4—Mrs. Alfred Van Dusen probably owes her life to a chew of tobacco. She loathes the weed that's why it saved her life, the doctor says.

Getting up in the night suffering from a splitting headache, Mrs. Van Dusen felt around on a medicine shelf till she grasped a box, which she supposed contained headache tablets. She swallowed two. They tasted queer. Mrs. Van Dusen turned on a light, examined the box, and discovered she had taken bichloride of mercury. Her husband, after being told the situation sternly ordered: "Here, put this in your mouth, chew it, and swallow the spit."

Mrs. Van Dusen obeyed and the desired result followed. When the doctor arrived he had only to calm Mrs. Van Dusen's nerves.

YEAR DEATH BY SMOTHERING

Draper, N. C.—Mrs. Helen Dalton, of this place, says: "I suffered for years, with pains in my left side, and would often almost smother to death.

Medicines patched me up for awhile but then I would get worse again. Finally, my husband decided he wanted me to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, so he bought me a bottle and I began using it. It did me more good than all the medicines I had taken.

I have induced many of my friends to try Cardui, and they all say they have been benefited by its use. There never has been, and never will be, a medicine to compare with Cardui. I believe it is a good medicine for all womanly troubles."

For over 50 years, Cardui has been relieving woman's sufferings and building weak women up to health and strength.

If you are a woman, give it a fair trial. It should surely help you, as it has a million others.

"All Aboard" for U.S. Marine

Nothing like a good satisfying chew or a rich, fragrant smoke to keep your nerves steady and your head clear. Street car men are about the busiest lot of fellows on earth. Starting—stopping—watching traffic—taking care of passengers—something's going on every minute.

It would be a tough job for them if they didn't have their U. S. MARINE to smooth out the kinks; but it's "All Aboard for Contentment Avenue Line" when they use this rich, mellow, satisfying tobacco.

U.S.MARINE

is made from pure Kentucky tobacco, aged from three to five years so as to bring out its full ripe flavor and rich fragrance.

Most sturdy, live men won't use any other brand, once they've tried U. S. MARINE—because no other brand has the snap, the taste and the honest sweetness of U. S. MARINE. It gives you big, juicy satisfaction such as you get out of a good square meal.

U. S. MARINE, selected Kentucky tobacco, slowly aged, is the longest lasting good tobacco ever sold for 5c. Slow-burning—and a long-time, satisfying chew.

Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

THE AMERICAN TOBACCO COMPANY

WHISKEY IN COFFINS

Police Commissioner Who is Also Head of Casket Factory Arrested.

Chattanooga, Tenn. Oct. 4.—A sensation was created here last week by the arrest of T. C. Betterton, general manager, secretary and treasurer of the Tennessee Coffin and Casket Company, and police commissioner of Chattanooga, charging him with violating the penal code of the United States in his capacity as head of the coffin company by shipping whiskey to customers all over this territory enclosed in caskets sent out from his factory. The technical charge is violation of section 240 of the penal code, which provides that all packages for shipment shall be properly labelled showing contents. Warrants were also served on T. L. Mylas, superintendent, and Frank T. Fox, packer of the factory.

The investigation of these charges was made by a special agent of the Department of Justice of the United States. It seems that the Tennessee Coffin and Casket Company is charged with making a custom of enclosing bottles of whiskey in caskets shipped to customers throughout this territory as lagniappes for their purchases of coffins. All three men gave bond for preliminary hearing.

NEGROES BENT ON LYNCHING

Posses Formed In Princess Anne to Find Negro Who Shot Another.

Princess Anne, Md. Oct. 4—Lemuel Justus, colored, was shot here Saturday night by another colored man, who has been in this county only a short time from Virginia. The shooting occured at the home of Lazarus Maddox, colored.

When a quarrel arose between Justus and the Virginia negro over a girl to whom the latter had been paying attention, the stranger fired at Justus, the bullet inflicting a serious wound in the intestines.

Negroes formed posses and hunted for the Virginia negro all night and today, but up to a late hour yesterday he had not been found. It is feared that if he is caught that he will be lynched by the enraged negroes. Every precaution is being taken by the local authorities to prevent a lynching.

Justus was hurried to the Peninsula General Hospital as Salisbury, where he is not expected to live.

DIES AS SHE WATCHES FILM

Boston, Oct. 4—Uttering an unintelligible cry as she watched an exciting death scene in a motion picture yesterday, Mrs. Herbert E. Lemon, of Quincy, suddenly fell forward in her seat, dead. Women became faint and the lights were suddenly flashed on. Scores left the theatre hurriedly as the woman's body was taken to a nearby-by physician's office.

Mrs. Lemon became excited over a tense scene in a Western drama, in which the mother of a dashing young outlaw was shown dying from a bullet wound which she received when she tried to shield her son from a sheriff's revolver.

ALEXANDRIA'S REPLY.

Alexandria Accepts the Evidence And Man Alexandria Readers Will Profit by it.

Which is the more weighty proof—a few words from an Alexandria resident, whom we know and respect, or volumes from strangers in distant towns? There can be only one reply.

J. B. Mills marine engineer, 212 S. Lee street, Alexandria, says: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Warfield's Drug Store, off and on for a good many years for backache and other kidney disorders and have always received most satisfactory results. A few doses always regulates the action of my kidneys and strengthens my back when it feels weak and lame. I have been the means of getting a great many people to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

COMMONWEALTH OF VIRGINIA

OFFICE OF

CLERK OF THE HOUSE OF DELEGATES

Proposed amendments to the Constitution of Virginia, agreed to at session of General Assembly 1914, and published in pursuance of section 196 of the Constitution and act approved February 3, 1908.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing an amendment to section 46, Artiele IV, of the Constitution.

Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section forty-six of article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly, after the first under this Constitution, shall continue longer than sixty days; but with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Except for the first session held under this Constitution, members shall be allowed a salary for not exceeding sixty days at any regular session, and for not exceeding thirty days at any extra session. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place nor for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 46. The General Assembly shall meet once in two years, on the second Wednesday in January, next succeeding the election of the members of the House of Delegates, and not oftener, unless convened in the manner prescribed by this Constitution. No session of the General Assembly shall continue longer than ninety days, except that with the concurrence of three-fifths of the members elected to each house, the session may be extended for a period not exceeding thirty days. Neither house shall, without the consent of the other, adjourn to another place, not for more than three days. A majority of the members elected to each house shall constitute a quorum to do business, but a smaller number may adjourn from day to day, and shall have power to compel the attendance of members in such manner and under such penalty as each house may prescribe.

JOINT RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 50 of Article IV of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment, and certifying the same to the next General Assembly.

1. Resolved by the House of Delegates, the Senate concurring (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia, be and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the General Assembly to be chosen at the next general election of members of the House of Delegates for its concurrence, in conformity with the provisions of section fifty of article four of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia, section fifty, article four, which is in the following words:

Sec. 50. No law shall be enacted except by bill. A bill may originate in either house, to be approved or rejected by the other, or may be amended by either, with the concurrence of the other.

No bill shall become a law unless prior to its passage it has been—

(a) Referred to a committee of each house, considered by such committee in session, and reported;

(b) Printed by the house in which it originated, prior to its passage therein;

(c) Read at length on three different calendar days in each house; and unless,

(d) A yea and nay vote has been taken in each house upon its final passage, the names of the members voting for and against entered on the journal, and a majority of those voting, which shall include at least two-fifths of the members elected to each house, recorded in the affirmative.

And only in the manner required in sub-division (d) of this section shall an amendment to a bill by one house be concurred in by the other, or a conference report be adopted by either house, or either house discharge a committee from the consideration of a bill and consider the same as if reported; provided, that the printing and reading, or either, required in sub-division (b and c) of this section, may be dispensed with in a bill to codify the laws of the State, and in any case of emergency by a vote of four-fifths of the members voting in each house taken by the yeas and nays, the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal; provided further, that no bill which creates or established a new office, or which creates, continues or revives a debt or charge or makes, continues or revives any appropriation of public or trust money or property, or releases, or discharges, or commutes any claim or demand of the State, or which imposes, continues or revives a tax, shall be passed except by the affirmative vote of the majority of all the members elected to each house, the vote to be by the yeas and nays, and the names of the members voting for and against, entered on the journal. Every law imposing, continuing or reviving a tax shall specifically state such tax, and no law shall be construed as so stating such tax, which requires a reference to any other law or any other tax. The presiding officer of each house shall, in the presence of the house over which he presides, sign every bill which has been passed by both houses and duly enrolled. Immediately before this is done, all other business being suspended, the title of the bill shall be publicly read. The fact of the signing shall be entered on the journal.
